WASHINGTON, June 17. DEAR Siz: In the letter of the Washington Correspondent of the Courier & Euquirer pubbers of the House from Ohio-Messrs. Morris, exceeding harshness and injustice. Without troub turning "trailers" for "thirty pieces of silver," who are as pure and steadfast Whigs and patriots man corre even to think of politics, or any thing besides his school-books or play-things. I undertake to say that he is incorrect in asserting that these gentle-Land Distribution bill." It is very likely that no man of any party, who has known these gentle-men as long as I have, will for a moment believe. Mesers. Morris, Stokely and Goode are among the most anniable and efficient gentlemen in Congress, and are not outdone by any in their devotion try. To those who know them it may appear a most unnecessary if not ridiculous act to repel such charges as those alluded to; and indeed, I

The House, to the astonishment of every body, to-day agreed to the ratio of the Senate fixed by the Apportionment bill. It is somewhat curious to hear the various objections made by those who other of the same school, whose District happens to be operated on favorably, approves it. One M. Southern Whig denounces it bitterly because it makes his District too large, while many others from the same quarter are delighted with it. Most
